

Two Design Lovers supports The Freedom Hub: a charitable organisation working to assist survivors of modern slavery in Australia.

Did you know that Australia imports an estimated $12 billion worth of goods each year that are at risk of being produced by people working under conditions of slavery? More shocking is that right now we have people here within Australia who are living in slavery.

About The Freedom Hub

“Start by doing what’s necessary, then do what’s possible, and suddenly you are doing the impossible.” Human trafficking and slavery happens within Australian borders. This is unacceptable. Therefore, the Freedom Hub exists to help people who have experienced this crime. Additionally, we partner in the fight to end global slavery.

Our Survivor School provides survivors long-term support. We do this by running free, personalised classes to assist them in recovering from trauma. Further, we have courses to help them become ready to work. Our Peer Support Program provides fun activities, community building and recreational sports.

We run our business to provide the funding for the administration of these activities. Our two cafes and event venue not only raise funds, but also become a focal point for community involvement and awareness. As a result, the administrative costs are covered by the business, and our supporters' donations go directly to helping survivors.

Two Design Lovers will help to coordinate the donation of unsold and unwanted furniture which may be useful to The Freedom Hub. In addition, even if you can't get along to The Freedom Hub Cafe in Waterloo, as a small token of our ongoing support for this important organisation, for every item purchased on Two Design Lovers, we will donate $4 - the price of a coffee.

You can lend you support by booking your next personal or corporate event at The Freedom Hub or by spreading the word on social media by using the hashtags:
